President's Report

On November 3 we were joined by Fred and Trevor Trewartha plus Cally Bartlett of the City of Greater Bendigo Brass Band. Also present was Caroline Stanford, Chair of the Ulumbarra Foundation. The COGBBB and Ulumbarra Foundation were our partners in the recent fund-raising concert.

Tony Plant chaired the Meeting and gave us an overview of the history of the Ulumbarra concerts which started in 2015. It was interesting to revisit what has been achieved over seven years. The recipients of the shared profits spoke highly of the success of the concert and the positive effect working with James Morrison had on both the band and the students attending the two Workshops with James Morrison the day after the concert. It was also interesting to learn just how expensive brass instruments are – firstly to purchase but also to maintain.

Please note that at our next meeting on November 10, being the eve of Remembrance Day, if you have any appropriate memorabilia you are invited to bring it and talk about it. My brother John will join us online again to talk about his second book 'Battle of the Atlantic'.

November 23 there is a combined Club Foundation Dinner at the Bendigo Club – that being a Wednesday, we will not be meeting on the Thursday that week. It would be grand to have a good number attending.
